A Full Catalogue of Professional Development Videos

Each PD Exchange video serves as a mini-course on a targeted area of English language teaching or language program management. Some videos contain interactive activities for you to apply new concepts to your own teaching situation, while other videos are structured as informational lectures. Videos range in length from 10-40 minutes and are suitable for teachers of all levels - from novice all the way to expert. Each video is accompanied by a PDF handout that outlines the key ideas covered. You will have the option to track your PD hours and receive a personalized transcript at the end of your membership cycle.

An English Language Teaching Blog

Our blog provides insightful commentary on teacher training, curriculum development and language program management. Read up on hot topics in the world of English language teaching, learn about new teaching tips and techniques, and explore ideas to help you grow as an English language teacher or language program manager.

An Extensive Collection of Teaching Resources

You'll find lots of useful resources here including: teaching activities, handouts and lesson plans; featured publications; a directory of useful English language teaching websites; a directory of reputable publishers and distributors in the ELT field; a directory of language teaching and technology companies; a directory of language assessment organizations; and a directory of prominent magazines and journals.

A Comprehensive Career Management Centre

Everything new and experienced English language professionals need to successfully manage their careers, all in one place! Resources include: regularly updated job postings and volunteer opportunities; a directory of trusted recruiters; links to upcoming courses and conferences, and other helpful career management resources.
